

Writing with Partners [S10]

The aim of this workshop and mentoring service is to give writers a better sense of audience. Bring a partner, write to an absent partner, or think up an imaginary one-it doesn't make any difference. In the process, we'll also get a handle on some of the differences between written communication and oral, or spoken communication. This service is offered either as a course or on an individual mentoring basis.

Fees

Individual mentoring: hourly rates apply. For a half-day course (minimum of six participants required): $300 plus all expenses. For a full-day course: $550 plus all expenses. Somewhat higher rates charged if there are more than ten participants. Rates to be negotiated if the workshop lasts longer than one day.
